Motorcyclists Ride to Raise Funds

June 9th wheels rolled to raise funds for the Zebulon Boys & Girls Club. The Saturday Motorcycle Ride was part of a Poker Run designed to raise money for local Boys & Girls Clubs, and ended with lunch at the Zebulon club.

In a “poker run”, participants ride to several checkpoints, drawing a playing card at each stop. The object is to have the best hand at the endpoint. Saturday’s event was the first annual poker run to end at Zebulon’s club.

The Wake Forest Boys & Girls Club was the first stop and the new Zebulon Boys & Girls Club was the finish. Zebulon Mayor Bob Matheny rode in the event along with Joe Taylor and other friends of the Boys & Girls Club. “It was a good event with a great deal of potential that will grow in future years.” said Karl Thoma, Unit Director.

Joe Taylor, a member of the Zebulon Boys & Girls Club local Board, his wife, and his son Alan organized the Poker Run event. Ray Price Harley Davidson sponsored and served as the starting point for the ride.

Many members of the Club, Junior Staff, and members of the Zebulon Boys & Girls Club came out to cook for and to thank the riders. Board members and volunteered brought in pizza, cooked hotdogs, and served it out with drinks to visitors and the riders when they arrived.

Funds raised by the riders will support summer camps and regular activities at the Zebulon club.

NC Humanities Council Historian to Speak in Wendell

The North Carolina Division, the Sons of Confederate Veterans, in cooperation with the North Carolina Humanities Council (www.nchumanities.org), and the Colonel Henry K. Burgwyn Camp of the North Carolina Division, will sponsor a presentation by historian Billy Yeargin (who has taught history at Duke University) on the topic, “Robert E. Lee: The Autumn of His Life,” on Tuesday evening (6:30 p.m.), June 19, 2012, at Boulevard Pizza, 2925 Wendell Blvd., Wendell.

Mr. Yeargin, who lives in Selma, North Carolina, lectures widely on historical subjects as part of the North Carolina Humanities Council’s “Roads Scholars” program. The “Roads Scholars” program enables noted scholars and speakers to travel to diverse areas of North Carolina, offering a variety of presentations about North Carolina, its history and its culture. The North Carolina Humanities Council supports these efforts with stipends for speakers and travel expenses. This support enables smaller and local organizations to take advantage of the rich variety of talent and expertise, and to spread that knowledge to the farthest corners of our state.

The public is cordially invited to attend this event on Tuesday, June 19. Please join camp members for supper at around 6:30pm, followed by the program at 7:15pm. This should be a fascinating program of interest to both those interested in history and the general public.

This project is made possible by a grant from the North Carolina Humanities Council, a statewide non-profit affiliate of the National Endowment for the Humanities.

For information about the work of the Council, please access the organization’s web site (www.nchumanities.org). For information about this local program, call 919.365.5206.

Governor Signs Cherokee Economic Dev. Legislation

Law Paves the Way for 400 New Jobs

Gov. Bev Perdue recently signed into law legislation securing the agreement between the State of North Carolina and the Eastern Band of the Cherokee that is expected to create 400 new jobs in western North Carolina. The 30-year compact, which the Governor and Cherokee leaders signed last month, will allow the Cherokee to offer live table gaming.

The agreement will provide for the state to receive a share of revenue generated from these new games, and that money will be directed to classroom education.

“The Cherokee have been good stewards of the money from their gaming enterprises, investing it in the lives of their people and the people of western North Carolina. They will continue to help their tribe and their neighbors with this new revenue,” Gov. Perdue said during a signing ceremony in the old House chamber in the Capitol. “This was a bipartisan endeavor – Republicans and Democrats allied in an effort to create opportunity. This agreement is a terrific example of how we can still work together and defy the unfortunate expectations of a polarized and often contentious political environment.”

The agreement must be approved by the U.S. Department of the Interior before taking effect.

The Good News... Summer Break is Here

School's out! School's out!
Teachers let the bulls out.
No more pencils, no more books!
No more teachers' dirty looks!

Most public schools across Nash, Wilson, Johnston, Franklin, and Wake run on a traditional calendar and kids are now on summer break! If you're looking for places to spend a few hours relaxing, parks and pools are open for business.

For those children and teens in schools on traditional calendars, they will be released for Summer Vacation in the early part of June. Instead of running for buses, they may be running on playgrounds, basketball courts, and around or in to swimming pools!

Public Swimming Pools

Several local public pools are open, including the following locations:

Knightdale Community Pool
Small fee to swim. Summer passes available. Aerobics too.
202 Milburnie Road, Knightdale NC, 217-2232

City of Rocky Mount's Denton Street Pool
1434 Denton Street, Rocky Mount, NC
Amenities include diving boards, slides, & spray area.
Hours online at www.rockymountnc.gov/parks/pool.html

City of Wilson's Recreation Park Pool
500 Sunset Road Northwest, Wilson NC, 252-399-2269

City of Wilson's Reid Street Pool
901 Reid Street East, Wilson NC, 252-399-2288
Info on both City of Wilson pools at www.wilsonnc.org.

Additional public pools are available in Wake County in different parts of Raleigh. Private pools, including the Wendell Swim Club, require an annual membership fee or buy-in before families may swim. Check with private swimming club for more details on using their pools.

Activities for Many Interests

Taking the kids out to the park or pool is great fun, but what about activities that help them learn, or day camps while parents are at work? When children and teens are on school break, parents and grandparents might be looking for ways to keep kids busy and learning in between fun family times.

Summer camp opportunities are everywhere: churches, nonprofits, museums, libraries, local businesses, park offices, and community centers. Libraries have begun summer reading programs with offerings for all ages. Parks & recreation departments have sports camps and summer leagues for kids interested in athletics. Boys & Girls clubs, day camps, music schools, and teen centers have opened their doors with a variety of offerings.

Many options are available for kids to spend the day, or a few hours, playing and learning. You can likely find multiple activities for your children throughout the summer months.

Carmike 10-Wilson
Movie Review of the Issue

By Kay Whatley, Editor

The movie review this issue is for Madagascar 3: Europe's Most Wanted. My husband and I took two pre-teens with us to review this children's film.

This movie includes the recurring major characters — Alex the Lion, Marty the Zebra, Gloria the Hippo, and Melman the Giraffe — voiced by the same actors as in the previous two films.

Certainly the movie has some action, including chases through several cities. Part of the plot involves a circus, and the circus performance scenes are colorful and character-filled, bearing some similarity to music videos.

While Madagascar 3 seemed to have less very funny moments than the original Madagascar film, it gave us some laughs. A few new characters — a sea lion and a bear — add to the comedy. It is worth mentioning that the small children in the audience seemed to enjoy it.

Shades of Grey

What Do You Think?

Some situations are viewed in black and white; right and wrong. Yet, many people think situations also have a grey area where solutions are not so easily discerned. This is not just about the choices people make, but the thought process they go through to arrive at their decisions.

Submitted for Your Consideration & Conversation
Meeting with a friend for lunch, you arrive to discover that she is quite upset. You settle into your seat and immediately ask what's happened.

She admits that she has just come from work where her manager chewed her out. The manager was upset at something she brought up during a meeting that he felt questioned his authority.

You're puzzled, as you know your friend is a hard worker and very calm in stressful situations. As you talk with her more, you discover that her manager routinely yells at her. It has been going on for months, and she has been looking for a new job — even though she's been there for many years — just to get away from the tense environment.

What do you think about her wanting to leave the job to get away? Do you think you would doubt her truthfulness or innocence, or back her 100%? Under what circumstances would you counsel your friend to go to Human Resource or to take legal action?

Winterville Idol Grows

Contributed by Tony Eggleston

For the 2nd year, Our Winterville Watermelon Festival is sponsoring the Winterville Idol Contest. Last year, it was a last minute idea that only involved 8 contestants that competed for 1 night. This year, event expands to 4 rounds of preliminaries, and 2 rounds of semifinals. Then, the 8 finalist serve as the opening act for a Thursday night "Free Concert" featuring the nationally renown Michael Jackson Tribute Band, Who's Bad.

The preliminary rounds are free for the public to attend; however, there is limited capacity due to the venue size.

There is no cost for contestants to enter the contest and the champion receives $500. Several contestants are returnees from last year. Combined with some very talented newcomers entered for this year, the Winterville Idol competition should be quite an event!

More information on this competition and the Winterville Watermelon Festival are online: www.watermelonfest.com.

This unique event has been voted one of the top 10 events during August in the Southeastern US for several years.

Rabies & Safety

Since May there has been word spreading about a rabid fox in Zebulon, a rabid kitten dropped off at an animal shelter, and several reported bats and raccoons with rabies. If your pets have not yet had their rabies shots, it might be a good time to get them one. Protecting pets keeps them from getting sick, or transmitting to people with whom they have contact.
