Person of the Issue Michael E. Lane

Local resident Michael Lane understands the importance of truth. It’s his business.

A former Wilson police officer and highway patrolman, Mr. Lane runs Eastern North Carolina Polygraph Services. Based in Wilson NC, he travels throughout NC and VA administering polygraph examinations and training examiners in use of polygraphs.

A polygraph is an instrument that measures selected physiological activities within the body. The instrument collects data from activities like breathing, blood pressure, and sweating. As an examiner, Mr. Lane poses questions and reviews answers and body responses to determine what is true, and what isn’t.

Mr. Lane graduated from the Virginia School of Polygraph with 16 years of polygraph experience and specializes in the field of interviews and interrogation. He is a certified instructor in Interview and Interrogations.

Working in law enforcement for 37 years, including as a Wilson police officer from 1973 through 1978 and the highway patrol starting in 1978, Mr. Lane received numerous valor awards. These included wards for Lifesaving, NC Highway Patrol Officer of the Year, and the NC Governors Award for Bravery and Heroism.

While working with the Wilson County Sheriff’s Office, he oversaw the polygraph examination program. He provided examinations for criminal cases, pre-employment screening, internal affairs investigations, sex offense investigations, child abuse investigations, and more.

He also served as State Polygraph Coordinator for the Department of Crime Control and Public Safety. At the time of his initial retirement from the North Carolina State Highway Patrol as a Sergeant, he was serving as head of NC Highway Patrol’s Polygraph Program.

The book, Interview To Confession, The Gentle Art Of Interrogation written by John C. Bowden is based on Mr. Bowden’s 30 years of research and experience with Mr. Lane.

In 2003, Mr. Lane began applying his skilled at getting to the truth with opening of his Wilson polygraph business. while continuing his law enforcement career with the Wilson County Sheriff’s Office as a detective and primary polygraph examiner until his second retirement in 2009.

In addition to working with polygraphs, Mr. Lane is a certified instructor in Firearms, Radar, and Defensive Driving. His skills as a marksman include being able to hit a target accurately from 1,000 yards.

Mr. Lane works with government offices, attorneys, businesses and private citizens with his background and polygraph services. Now he helps people get to the truth on important criminal, civil, and private matters. Contact Eastern North Carolina Polygraph Services at 252.230.2334.

Memorial Day

Memorial Day, May 28th this year, is a day of remembering the men and women who died while serving in the United States Armed Forces.

In the US, Memorial Day is a time for visiting the graves of relatives, putting wreaths on the graves of fallen loved ones.

Memorial Day is a federal holiday in the United States, and used to be known as “Decoration Day”. Officially, it started after the American Civil War to commemorate the fallen soldiers, but in the South ladies organizations and schools decorated graves during the Civil War. By the 1900s, Memorial Day was a day to honor all Americans who had died in all wars.

Memorial Day Weekend is a long weekend with time off from work to remember and to relax. Families gather on the designated day to lay flowers on graves, and sometimes hold annual reunions to reconnect with far-flung family members.

Celebrating Memorial Day in 2012, there are many public events and remembrances as well as family gatherings. Take a moment to reflect on those lost, and those in harms way, this year.

Carmike 10 -Wilson
Movie Review of the Issue

By Kay Whatley, Editor

The movie review feature continues this issue with review of The Avengers. Thank you to Carmike 10 on Ward Blvd. in Wilson for welcoming us in for our review.

We went together; a family made up of an over-50, 40-something, a teen, a tween, two males, two females, all with different experiences and ideas of what makes a good movie. The short version is: we all loved The Avengers.

To give a little background, The Avengers is a group of Marvel Comics superheroes, brought together to fight evil using their varied superpowers. In the movie, the group — working together as S.H.I.E.L.D. (Strategic Homeland Intervention, Enforcement and Logistics Division) — includes Iron Man, the Incredible Hulk, Captain America, Thor, the Black Widow, Hawkeye, and Director Nick Fury. Frequent movie-goers may recognize some of these characters from movies released in the past few years.

Having seen several of the previous “Avenger” movies, including Iron Man and Thor, we all had an idea what to expect. The Avengers exceeded our expectation!

This movie was funny, exciting, and kept us guessing through to the end! The interactions between the characters, especially the banter between Iron Man, Captain America, and David Banner (the Hulk), were sarcastic and snide and made us laugh out loud at many points.

There was plenty of action and suspense throughout, following the initial character introduction scenes. Unlike many recently released movies, the action was easier to follow. And the humor between the characters continued to sneak in even during the serious action parts.

We watched the 3D version of the movie, and I have to say it is the best quality 3D I’ve seen. The days of red-and-blue 3D glasses are long gone. The action jumps out of the screen with a flow and dimension that seems more natural than previous 3D movies we’ve seen. I’d recommend spending the extra few bucks and wearing the glasses to get the full experience of this action movie.

All four of us agreed it was a great movie and were glad that we had taken the evening together to enjoy it!

Shades of Grey

What Do You Think?

Some situations are viewed in black and white; right and wrong. Yet, many people think situations also have a grey area where solutions are not so easily discerned. This is not just about the choices people make, but the thought process they go through to arrive at their decisions.

Submitted for Your Consideration & Conversation

You head out for work one beautiful Spring day. It’s Friday and you have had a tough week at work. Your mind is on the weekend break ahead!

About 20 minutes into your drive, halfway to work, you stop at a stoplight. Looking down, you notice that the gas light is on. Not sure how long it has been on, you head for the nearest gas station.

Parking at the pump, you reach into your pocket and realize with dread that you don’t have your wallet! For the next five minutes you search every inch of the car for change, but only find 26 cents. Realizing that you don’t have enough gas to go home for your wallet, or to get to work to borrow gas money, what can you do?

Do you think that you would call a friend or co-worker to come and help you out of the jam you’re in? Would you feel comfortable making someone come out to the station? Or would you be too embarrassed? If you were more concerned about being late and didn’t have time to wait for someone, do you think you would ask a stranger for money? Would the gas station owner trust you to return and “pay later”?

Do you think it makes a different whether you visit this gas station often, or are there for the first time?

Things We Did in NC When We Were Bored

Saturday, May 12th was National Train Day and The Grey Area visited the Rocky Mount train station to see what the hoopla was about.

Train Day at the station was organized by a group working to build a railroad museum in Rocky Mount, working with Whistle Stop Gift Shop and Café. The fundraiser started at 10am with museum folks on-hand. They had photos on display showing Rocky Mount’s rail line history, and had table-top trains for visitors to watch, or even control!

Kids of all ages checked out the trains, watched a historical skit, and enjoyed an adorable puppet show that engaged the kids AND incorporated the “train” theme of the day.

The Rocky Mount Railroad Museum, originally described as the Thomas Edwards Jr. Project, was conceived, during the spring of 2009, by Mrs. Joyce Edwards Dantzler in fond memory of her father’s love for model trains and his work as a “fireman” on the old steam engines.

The nonprofit group is currently reviewing locations and gathering funding toward opening the museum in Rocky Mount where all can enjoy the model trains and the city’s rich railroad history

News From The Grey Area

Word of the Issue
Azimuth
Definition: Azimuth is a horizontal angle measured in degrees from a direction (usually North).
Example: "A compass can help you to measure an azimuth."

Chuckle of the Issue
 The teacher was showing her class an encyclopedia page picturing several national flags. She pointed to the American flag and asked, "What flag is this?"
 A little girl called out, "That's the flag of our country."
 "Very good," the teacher said. "And what is the name of our country?"
 " 'Tis of thee," the girl said confidently.

Cryptogram of the Issue
