

A Little Bit of History

Bunn & Franklin County Display

As the beautiful weather arrives — finally — many local festivals and special events are happening. One special event is the Bunn Museum Day. As part of the Centennial Year celebrations, Bunn is displaying artifacts and photographs which show its history thanks to local residents' items being put on display.

Local residents and farmers will be sharing agricultural and old time tools, photographs from days gone by, and storytelling.

Area residents with historical items (or stories) to share are encouraged to contact the Bunn Centennial Committee and offer their items for the day — May 18th. Items will be returned at the end of the day. Contact Sherry Mercer at Sherry.Mercer@Jacobs.com to contribute.

Whether you know the area's history, lived through it, or are "new here" and want to learn it, this Museum Day offers a peak into Franklin County life from the early 1900s.

Carmike 10-Wilson Movie Review of the Issue

By Kay Whatley, Editor

Iron Man 3

May 7th we took a trip to Wilson to see the newly released Iron Man 3 movie.

Robert Downey, Jr. reprises his role as Tony Stark, Iron Man. Gwyneth Paltrow returns as "Pepper" Potts, and Don Cheadle as Col. "Rhodey" Rhodes — his War Machine suit now renamed "Iron Patriot".

If you liked the Iron Man or Iron Man 2 films, you will probably like Iron Man 3. The characters are the same, likeable characters. The villain is a little, um, less evil, but there is still quite a bit of evil to fight. I don't want to give away too much, but all is not as it seems...

This movie had many funny points, reminiscent of The Avengers movie. Iron Man 3 has a lot of good banter back and forth with Tony Stark and a new, young character. Tony Stark's immaturity mixes well with the child's own maturity.

Some of the action shots were tough to follow, as there is so much going on in the foreground and background that it was tough to catch everything. This film definitely has exciting scenes through until the end.

Overall, we were happy with the movie. My husband and I both liked it. We just liked Iron Man and Iron Man 2 more.

As a side note, we went to the film on Tuesday. The theatre has special drink and popcorn pricing on Tuesdays.

Pilot & FAA Investigator Testimonies Presented to Congressional Committee at the National Press Club

Press release by The Citizen Hearing on Disclosure

May 3, 2013 – Current testimony is being given to six former members of Congress at the National Press Club on the material and remains found in area 51 at Roswell by multiple military sources. President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon are said to have sent top clearance CIA operatives to investigate and report back on the findings. One such operative gave video testimony and another, who is no longer alive, was represented by his son. Investigative researchers on the topic who had interviewed and validated the reports of these sources testified as well.
