Ice Cream that is Good for the Community

By Frank Whatley

Stop by the SAYum Deli and Ice Cream Shop to enjoy a scoop of Hershey’s ice cream, and you’ll also be helping curtail gang activity in Wilson. The Wilson NC shop is just one part of the Save A Youth (S.A.Y) anti-gang program.

S.A.Y. was established by the St. John’s Community Development Corp., Inc., (CDC). Dr. Michael S. Bell, originally from Kingston, Jamaica. serves as the St. John’s CDC Site Coordinator, as well as Pastor of St. John’s Church.

S.A.Y. offers services to help the community through gang prevention, after school programs, and vacation summer program. They have a three-phase plan:

- SAYum, serving Hershey’s Ice Cream, deli sandwiches, and Coke products. This is the vehicle through which they raise funds for local services.
- SAY Fresh (2014) market for fresh vegetables inside the community (farmers market for the neighborhood).
- S.A.Y. Dollar Store, where neighborhood residents can come in and purchase what they need for $1 and proceeds go to help at-risk youth.

The first part of their plan, the SAYum Deli & Ice Cream Shop, opened in August 2013. SAYum raises funds, provides jobs, and gives youth a place to “hang out” and get a hot dog or an ice cream. Funds raised are used locally, benefitting the surrounding community.

The S.A.Y. Vocational Program has served Wilson County youth ages 15-17 since 2005. Under Dr. Bell, S.A.Y started with 250 children. The youth involved are court-involved, have been released from one of NC’s Youth Development Centers and have been identified as at-risk of gang involvement, associated with gang members, or are involved in a gang directly.

Youth in the S.A.Y. program have been referred by the Juvenile Court Counselor and gone through a formal intake process involving the SAY program coordinator, the juvenile, and the parents.

The S.A.Y. program is successfully serving more than 300 students from three sites across Wilson County. Over the past three years, more than 95% of the students attending the S.A.Y. programs have met or exceeded state and local standards in core academic areas and promotional requirements. The program provides youth with vocational skills training, apprenticeship opportunities, social skill building, life skills, and academic support.

The St. John’s website, www.stjohncdcwilson.org, describes CDC’s Wilson-area S.A.Y. activities. Visit the site for more information, or stop by SAYum and find out more while enjoying a tasty treat.

Carmike 10 Wilson - Movie Review of the Issue

One Direction: This is Us

The movie review this issue is a little different. We reviewed the 3D movie about the band One Direction. Because the band has many young fans, instead of the whole family going I instead went to the movie with my daughter and one of her friends from school.

Before we even went to the theatre, the two young ladies were thrilled! They talked about going to see the movie for two days beforehand. Once we were actually in the car, they spent the drive listening to songs by One Direction and other, similar bands. To them, it wasn’t just going to a movie: it was more like going to a concert.

Pretty appropriate, since the movie is about a concert tour and the band members’ journey from middle class to riches. Mixed with concert footage and interviews, the movie shows the five young boys getting their start, rising to fame through social media, and becoming a full-fledged traveling band. Just teens when they began, now three years later they range in age from 19 to 21.

If you like concert movies, or “popumentaries”, if you will, then you will likely enjoy One Direction: This Is Us. Footage is clear and crisp 3D, good sound quality, and story line interesting. The five boys in the band come across as normal, quirky teens. Some of the goofy behavior they exhibit reminds me of our teen son and his high-spirited friends — full of beans, my parents would have said!

As a parent, I was sad to see these very young men pushed so hard. I wonder: Is the music industry such a money-oriented machine that schedules cannot be designed to include appropriate amounts of relaxation, family time, sleep, homework, and days-off between concerts? All five boys exhibited a strong work ethic, but can it be maintained long-term? I’d hate to see these seemingly normal “kids” end up in the tabloids like so many other young performers.

Anyway, let me get back to the actual reviewing of the movie. The two young ladies I brought with me really liked it. I heard phrases like “the best movie I’ve ever seen in my entire life” — which probably reflects their fan status rather than actual cinematography! For any band fan, this should be a treat. The movie was 95 minutes long, and the girls would not have minded if it were twice that long.

I liked it too. I’m not much for concert films, but it was well done and interesting. And I learned enough about this band to understand what my daughter and her friends are talking about, and to appreciate the clean lyrics offered by One Direction songs.

Shades of Grey

Some situations are viewed in black and white; right and wrong. Yet, many people think situations also have a grey area where solutions are not so easily discerned. This is not just about the choices people make, but the thought process they go through to arrive at their decisions.

Submitted for Your Discussion & Consideration

Speaking with your sister one evening, she shares that she is frustrated with her son’s school. She feels that they are being unfair, at a minimum, and maybe even biased.

Your sister works hard. She makes a paycheck and covers the bills, but after groceries and all she can’t afford to get her son a fancy internet-enabled phone. She is annoyed with the school because several teachers have assigned students homework that requires use of “smart phone apps”.

Your sister is worried that without the expensive phone, her son will not be able to do all the homework. She doesn’t want his grade affected by their financial situation.

What do you think about your sister’s problem? Do you feel that the teachers should include this type of technology in class work? Or do you agree with your sister that it excludes people with less income?

If it were your child, do you think that you would feel offended by the teachers’ choices? Or would you feel that it was appropriate to use new technologies in the classroom, even if the school did not provide it?

Zebulon “Trunk or Treat”
Seeking Trunks

Contributed by Sheila Long, Community Center Coordinator, Town of Zebulon

The Town of Zebulon Parks and Recreation Department is seeking organizations to participate in our annual Trunk or Treat Night. The community will be invited to celebrate Halloween in the safe environment of the Zebulon Community Center on October 25, 2013 at 5-7pm. Trunks should arrive by 4:30pm for set up.

Participating organizations will be assigned a parking place to set up. Although it is not required, we urge participating organizations to have fun with this opportunity and decorate their vehicles and wear costumes as they pass out candy to the smiling faces! Make it your own and have fun with this event! If you are unable to participate, but would still like to contribute, we would be very appreciative of candy donations.

Please call 919.823.0432, or email me at slong@townofzebulon.org, to reserve your spot today.

Pilot Baptist Church Builds Family Life Center

Outside Zebulon in the small area known as Pilot, an active church is gearing up for even more community activities. Pilot Baptist Church is building a large Family Life Center to expand their capacity to serve the community.

The ground-breaking took place May 5, 2013 in the large field adjacent to Pilot Baptist Church. This grassy space, formerly used as a playing field and event location, will soon host meetings and events indoors with a capacity to hold hundreds of people.

Submit Filming Locations to North Carolina List

By Kay Whatley, Editor

Films are frequently shot in several locations. Buildings, outdoor areas, and special scenery are used to fit the action. How many locations, and how far apart they are, is controlled by both the script and the budget. Just like any business, there has to be a cost-benefit analysis and decisions made to film the scenes without breaking the budget.

The NC Film Office (NCFilm.org) has three employees working with the film industry, including scouting locations. Guy Gaster of the NC Film office conveyed that Eastern NC has been a backdrop for several recent productions. Area filming includes One Tree Hill (Kinston), Chef and the Farmer (Kinston), Game Time: Tackling The Past (Greenville), Grass Stains (Spring Hope), Mississippi Damned (Nash County), and La Liorona (Tarboro/Rocky Mount) — this last currently filming for release later in 2013.

La Liorona began filming in Tarboro. Shooting included moving the actors and equipment into farm and wooded areas for just the right “horror movie” location. Later scenes filmed at Rocky Mount businesses including the Taste of Paradise restaurant. To ensure the right scary feel, the film crew travels to urban and rural locations for different scenes.

Zero Budget film crew takes direction from Jermaine Clark

Decisions made are based on a film’s budget. Sometimes a first-choice location is selected, and budget allocated to cover travel costs. In the case of the Sleepy Hollow filming in New Bern, the production company chose to incur travel costs to use their first choice location. Sleepy Hollow was filming in Wilmington; then, the producers wanted a more extensive Colonial location. In New Bern, they found their ideal setting and moved in with a film crew.

The Strange-ness

Glittery Food May be Gut-wrenching

Love those shiny pastries in brilliant colors? Grab that tasty candy for a snack after lunch? Depending on how your food was made, it may be bad for you on a whole new level.

Some foods get their shine naturally. Sometimes, however, a shine is added by including ingredients that contain “nanoparticles”. Nanoparticles are extremely tiny objects with large surface areas. They are used in food, medicine and cosmetics, in addition to having some industrial uses.

The issue with nanoparticles used in food is that little is known about their impact on health. The particles are so small that they can migrate inside individual cells of the body, kind of like grains of sand migrating into a bathing suit; except, there is no complete method for cleaning nanoparticles out of the cells. Impact on the human body requires further study.

Little Bits

Chuckle of the Issue

Harry walked over to the minister after services. The minister asked, “Where have you been the past few weeks?”

“You know Father, I am really stuck in a quandary,” Harry said. “I would like to attend church regularly, but it’s football season, and I don’t want to miss the games. Besides, it’s only for a few months.”

“Oh Harry,” said the Priest putting his arm around Harry, “Don’t you know? That’s what recorders are for.”

Harry’s face lit up “You mean I could record your sermons?”

Loves Gentlemen’s Clothiers Closes its Doors

Love’s Gentlemen’s Clothiers of Rocky Mount, located at 3669 Sunset Avenue since November 1, 1995, closed its doors for good the week of September 9, 2013.

Proprietor Ruddy Love has been a staple in the community since 1992, outfitting customers for work, casual, and special occasions including proms and weddings. Ruddy came to Rocky Mount from South Carolina in 1992 to manage Epstein’s clothing store. Epstein’s had been in downtown Rocky Mount since 1905.

When Epstein’s closed in 1995, that’s when Ruddy opened Love’s Gentlemen’s Clothiers of Rocky Mount. His friendly manner and expertise kept customers coming back year-after-year.

The reason he is closing, Ruddy says, is that “it is just time”. It is time to close and go do something different. He will be missed.
