Food Truck Luncheons Offer Changing Options and a Broad Range of Cuisines

By Kay Whatley, Editor

On the second Tuesday of each Month, Wendell Park will be a good spot to stop for lunch. Food trucks will be in the park from 11am until 2pm, with different trucks available for each second Tuesday.

On May 12 and June 9, the food truck lineup includes:

Baton Rouge Cuisine, serving Cajun foods like Jambalaya, Gumbo, and Etouffée.

Chick-N-Que, specializing in Eastern NC style BBQ NC, with NC-raised ostrich burgers and steaks.

Virgil's Jamaica, serving Jerk chicken, ox-tail stew, curried chicken, coco bread, and other delightful dishes.

Backyard Bistro, based near Carter-Finley Stadium, is bringing their big pink truck full of tasty lunch choices, expected to include: crispy tater tots with kimchee, "pig wings" smoked and fried crisp with Redneck sauce, million dollar bacon b-l-t, and smoked pork sandwich with house sauce and slaw.

Backyard Bistro replaces Asiago, a food truck originally scheduled.

These special food truck lunch events are organized by the Town of Wendell, working with Parks and Rec. The luncheons continue until October 13, 2015.

Each food truck luncheon will be at Wendell Park, located at 601 W Third Street in Wendell. For more information on this unique lunch option, call 919.366.2266.

The Strange-Ness: Smart Bullets? New Enforcement Options Too

With the recent release of information on the Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency (DARPA) so-named smart bullets, it is worth noting that a non-lethal smart bullet is available from a Colorado company.

DARPA's Extreme Accuracy Tasked Ordnance (EXACTO) program announced their development of a self-steering bullet. Their live-fire tests showed experienced and inexperienced shooters repeatedly hitting moving targets with smart bullets able followed them.

A Brighton, Colorado company has a different take on smart bullets. Smart-Rounds Technology, LLC's smart bullets can sense the target and burst prior to hitting it. Upon burst, different non-lethal releases can disable the target without killing.

Defending oneself without fearing murder charges, or having laws enforced without concern of causing death, are appealing ideas. Smart-Rounds Technology's products focus on disabling without taking a life, versus the DARPA product more effectively getting a bullet into its target.

According to SmartRounds Technology, their smart projectile is equipped with two micro-sensors that turn a round on when fired, and then activate the round milliseconds before impact "utilizing our airburst technology."

Four types of smart projectiles are planned, with some already available. ShockRounds™ which are designed to produce a high pressure pulse; PepperRounds™ which disperse a burning spray; RepelRounds™ which douse the target with a foul smelling odorant; and HemiRounds™ which are electroshock "stun" rounds.

According to Nick Verini, CEO of SmartRounds Technology, "The most interest has been with our ShockRounds (flash bang) and our HemiRounds (electroshock)."

Rounds may be fired from a 12-gauge shotgun, or a special launcher that the company produces. Following testing and completion of a funding campaign, commercial production will include the rounds and launchers.

Shades of Grey

Some situations are viewed in black and white; right and wrong. Yet, many people think situations also have a grey area where solutions are not so easily discerned. This is about the choices people make, and the thought process they go through to arrive at decisions.

Consider: Submitted for Discussion

While you are enjoying a day out, you see three people arguing on the sidewalk ahead. People around them are watching.

As you get close, you see one of the bystanders reach out and steal a cell phone from the back pocket of one of the women in the argument. No one else seems to see.

Do you think that you would approach the woman about the theft you think you saw? Or, do you think that you would be more likely to walk away and avoid getting pulled into an argument?

Seniors Enjoy Variety of Activities in Bailey

By Kay Whatley, Editor

Drive by the Mount Pleasant Community Building on a Monday morning, and you'll see a packed parking lot. Their Monday senior offerings regularly draw a crowd.

As part of Nashville's The NASH, the Mount Pleasant Senior Group offers leisure and exercise alongside wellness events and even movies. The activities and services are geared toward adults 60 and older from southern Nash County.

Open Monday and Thursday, Mondays offer the widest variety of activities. Thursdays, seniors may enjoy video aerobics at 9am. Monday, the activities vary; for example, this is the schedule for May 18, 2015:

9:00am Video Aerobics
10:00am Fitness & Wellness Speaker
11:00am Painting Class ($3)
11:00am Cards/Crafts

Most events are free, although occasionally classes — such as the Painting Class above — cost a small fee. If you're 60 or older and looking for activities that are enjoyable, informational, and well attended, stop by the Mount Pleasant Community Building, located at 7637 Harris Road in Bailey. For more details, contact Holly Edwards at 252.459.7681.

Knightdale Business Expo Accepting Exhibitor Applications

The Knightdale Business Expo 2015 is just a few weeks away, and the Knightdale Chamber of Commerce is accepting applications from potential exhibitors.

Business owners are invited to showcase their business offerings. Space is available for over 100 exhibitors. Participation is open to both members and non-members of the Chamber. Booth fee is $225 for Chamber members, and $450 for non-members. Additional fees apply for premium exposure and electricity.

Exhibitors may select their preferred booth locations from a map available on the Chamber's website, which also provides the Exhibitor Application. The map is updated weekly to show current exhibitors and taken booth numbers.

This year's Expo is sponsored by Duke Raleigh Hospital, Rex Health Care, and WakeMed.

The event is open to the public, and there is no entry fee. All are welcome to attend this event at Knightdale High School, 100 Bryan Chalk Lane, Knightdale. Come to the Expo and find out about the products and services in Knightdale. Build rapport throughout the community by meeting business owners, community leaders, and Knightdale residents. See product demonstrations, pick up resource information, try food samples, meet local mascots, see area celebrities, enter contests, and more.

A hash tag for social media has been set for the event to assist users of Twitter and other tools in spreading the word about the Expo: #KdaleBizExpo.

The Knightdale Business Expo 2015 is coming up June 18, 2015, starting at 3pm and ending at 7pm. More details are online at www.knightdalechamber.org.

Learn Fishing at NC Coast Park

You can learn net and surf fishing techniques from National Park Service personnel at Cape Hatteras National Seashore. The fishing classes are free, with pre-registration recommended. More details, and more events, are online at www.nps.gov/caha.

Ocracoke Island: Cast Netting

Try your hand at using a cast net, one of the oldest forms of fishing. Bring your own cast net or use one of theirs. This class is limited to 25 participants.

Pre-registration at the Ocracoke Visitor Center opens the Saturday before the program date.

Each class runs from 8:30am to 10am, and is held every Monday and Friday starting May 22, 2015, and running to September 7, 2015.

Hatteras Island: Fish with a Ranger

Learn the sport of surf casting and fishing. Poles are available, but attendees must bring their own bait. This free class is limited to 15 participants. Pre-register in person at the Hatteras Island Museum of the Sea, starting as early as the Saturday prior to the program.

Each class runs from 8am to 10am, every Monday and Thursday from May 25 through September 7.

Braswell Offers Design Club, College Aid Data, and Family Fun Night

Contributed by Scott Houston

Learn and play at Braswell Memorial Library! Events for young people, college-age adults, and families are coming up. For more information on the library events listed below, call 252.442.1951 x.257 or email shouston@braswell-library.org.

All events are organized by and held at Braswell Memorial Library, 727 N Grace Street, in Rocky Mount.

Minecraft Design Club

Teens are invited to join the fun with Minecraft Design Club. During the monthly meetings, teens have an opportunity to "Build, Explore, Design and Challenge" themselves. The meetings are open to ages 12-17. Upcoming dates are May 14, June 11, and July 9 (2nd Thursday each month). Meetings run from 5:30pm to 7:30pm in the 2nd floor Computer Lab. Refreshments are served following each Minecraft Design Club meeting.

The group uses the Minecrafterdu version of the game (minecrafterdu.com) to let members design and create their own items and structures in the game.

At the first session, the group used a tutorial world to help everyone get used to the controls in Minecraft and learn the very basic building and crafting functions in the game.

At the next meeting, members start working on building their own houses in the game. A rubric is used that the facilitator hands out. It lists certain features each house should have. By following this rubric and building certain features, the members become familiar with the more advanced building and crafting functions in the game.

The challenge is completing the rubric. This is expected to span several sessions and require members to help and support each other in and out of the game.

Free Application for Federal Student Aid

Wondering what the FAFSA is and how it can help you? Join Amy Denton from the College Foundation of NC for a free FAFSA information session on May 13, 2015, 6-7:30pm. Come to the Computer Lab, 2nd floor of Braswell Memorial Library.

Teen and Family Game Night

Join us on May 28, 2015, from 5pm to 7:30pm in the YA Area, 2nd floor, for a night of gaming and fun.

A variety of games — board, card, computer, etc. — are available for play with friends or family. Teens can also sign up for Minecraft in the Computer Lab! Refreshments will be provided. GAME ON!

Nash Offers Business Seminars

Contributed by Jo Anne Cooper,
Nashville Chamber of Commerce

The Nash Community College's Small Business Center offers free workshops to teach business skills. Several are coming up in May. For details or to pre-register, visit www.nashcc.edu/sbc.

Quick Books: May 1, 9am-4pm

This seminar teaches how to get the most out of QuickBooks for business. Learn the basics to better understand financial data, including how to set your business, create invoices, pay bills, reconcile accounts, and create reports.

Writing a Successful Business Plan: May 7, 6-9pm

The business plan is a road map for your business from determining the feasibility for start-up, to tracking your progress, planning expansion, or applying for a loan. This workshop will discuss the narrative and financial aspects of a business plan, and give students an opportunity to work with actual plans prepared by others.

Obtaining a Loan for Your Business: May 14, 6-9pm

In order to meet business financial goals, it is often necessary to borrow funds. This seminar will cover determining how much you need, where the money may come from, the 5 C's of Credit, and preparing a loan package.

Dynamite Marketing on a Firecracker Budget: May 21, 6-9pm

This seminar covers tips for prospective and existing business owners on how to learn more about customers, competitors, and overall market opportunities. Learn the four components of the marketing mix, and inexpensive and effective market research design.

Bookkeeping and Taxes for Small Business: May 26, 6-9pm

Do you know your product or service upside down and backwards, but the numbers just drive you up a wall? This seminar helps explain the difference between cash basis and accrual basis of accounting, and single versus double entry bookkeeping. Discuss calculating and recording payroll taxes and sales tax and get hands-on experience preparing financial statements.

Workshop Educates on Food Truck Businesses

A three-part workshop, the Mobile Food Truck Entrepreneurship Series, is a free program designed to teach attendees about the food truck or food cart business. The series is being held at Vance-Granville Community College Small Business Center's Franklin Campus, 8100 NC 56 Highway, in Louisburg. Dates are:

Seminar 1 (May 18, 2015): Preparing for Success: Concept & Design: Learn about federal, state, and local regulations, zoning, licenses, and permits needed to operate a food truck or food cart.

Seminar 2 (June 1, 2015): Administrative Necessities: Permits, Costs & Budgeting: Learn how to work on design, cost, and budgeting for a mobile food unit.

Seminar 3 (June 8, 2015): Marketing for Success: Social Media/Advertising: Learn how to market a food truck or food cart business through website and social media outlets.

There are prerequisites to attending the workshop. Attendees are required to become a client of VGCC's Small Business Center. Man Against Machines. What Price Modernity?

As the enabling technology is becoming available, recently there were voiced fears regarding the development and production of "knowing sentient and autonomous" artificial intelligence devices which they may then decide to set us, their creators, aside, all resulting in catastrophes or even our very extinction.

A remarkable living genius who contributed a lot about the origin of the universe and stars and who also — in spite of suffering from an advanced stage of muscular dystrophy — making him unable to move or talk. (He now speaks through a computer which is able to picking up twitching of his cheek!) He recently voiced fear of us creating artificial life — super intelligent robots.

Here is the headline: "Stephen Hawking Fears Artificial Intelligence Could Spell Mankind Doom" (He's Not the Only One.)

I thought of a question about a problem he may not have considered: Humans evolved to create "meaning"; plus, they bond, they have continuous sensual enthusiasm, they love, they dream of the future, they create. Humans have faiths, beliefs and narratives regarding their individual selves as well for their tribe; plus, altruism. Humans are eager to contribute and leave a mark behind; aside of the unfortunate occasional aggressiveness against each other.

Will the Artificial Intelligence devices/ Robots, have all that? Or, in their super-rationality will they decide to commit suicide out of their super-intelligent meaninglessness? After all, intelligence is only a tool. It does not have wisdom, a capacity to love or suffer, or an ability to look forward to the next day.

I wonder: Did Hawkins and others considered that?

Little Bits

Chuckle of the Issue

Two factory workers are talking. The woman says, “I can make the boss give me the day off.”

The man replies, “And how would you do that?”

The woman says, “Just wait and see.” She then hangs upside-down from the ceiling.

The boss comes in and says, “What are you doing?”

The woman replies, “I’m a light bulb.”

The boss then says, “You’ve been working too much and you need some rest. I think you need to take the day off.”

She leaves, and the man starts to follow her out. The boss says to him, “Where are you going?”

The man says, “I’m going home, too. I can’t work in the dark.”
